The 2013 College Graduates

Congratulations to Ali & Kyle

June 11th: Kindra is being admitted to Iowa Methodist Hospital in Des Moines to have three kidney stones, ½” in size, surgically removed from her kidney.

She will be in the hospital 1-2 nights for observation before going home. Please keep her in your thoughts...

(Kindra was admitted to Story Co. Hospital on May 27th with a fever and chills -- another kidney infection! They put her on antibiotics and she was just released today and was able to hang out with us tonight. Yay!)

From Jaynane on May 25th: JK is on her way to Boston, to meet Justin, Jamie, Pup and Brady for the drive west. Hopefully the weather is improving throughout the east and on to the Midwest. I will stay in Iowa and meet up with Nancy there for a few days in that area. A good chance to see Dick and Judy and Bob, and hopefully 3 of the 4 K's there. Justin and Jamie will continue to drive west and see Mike's and on to Twin Falls to see Jamie's dad, Dennis. Their next stop will be Oregon and I will let them add the next step in this story. Boston two times in one year, wow!

Justin, Jamie, Pup & Brady Are Moving to the West Coast! They're On the Road
Now Heading West →→→

They may be stopping by your place for a break, a cold drink, a meal, a nap, an overnight... or just to say, "Hey!"

Happy Trails and Safe Travels... xoxo

The East Coast Will Miss You ☹

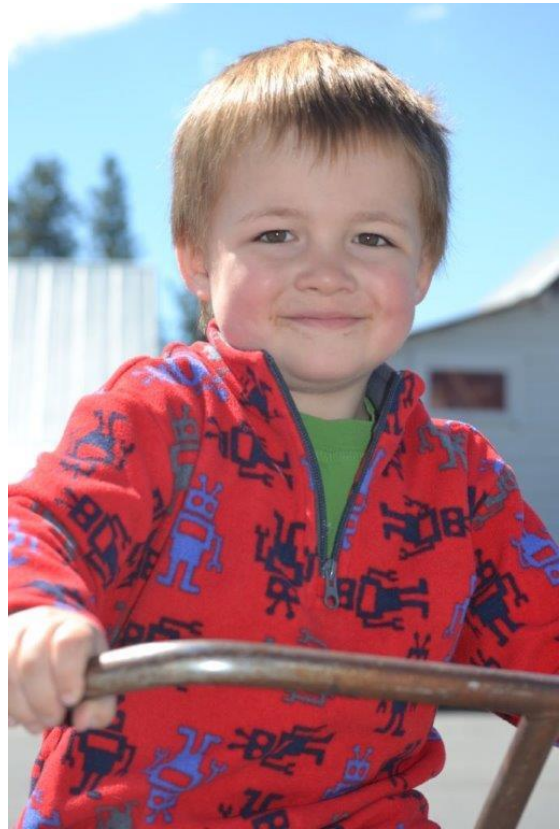

::MCLEMORE NEWS::

Colin is recovering from a broken fibula. He fell on the way to the hot tub 3 weeks ago and has one clean break and 2 fractures. The good news is he does not have to have a cast which he is very thankful for! He is still working as usual and it has not slowed him down much at all. The boys are keeping us very busy. They have so much energy! They are happy boys and are growing up quickly. Cody loves his hats and both boys love to ride their bikes. They love visiting Daddy at 'the shop' and Jackson says daily 'Mommy, I really wish you would take us to the shop'. The picture of Nancy, Neal and the boys was taken when they were visiting recently for 'Lost in the 50's' (big Sandpoint car show). Hope this finds you well! Love, Raynee

Taylor's Maid-Rite!

Enjoying a family favorite with Jaynane, Nancy, Jamie & Justin. The last stop on the Iowa Itinerary for J & J. One more overnight and they will be back on the road tomorrow with Pup & Brady.

Have a safe drive and watch out for those storms, Jamie. 😊 xoxo
