News from Nancy:

Dear Family,

I have good news/bad news to share. For the past few months I have been watching a hard small bump on my right thigh-exactly where an incision was made 9 years ago when a cancerous tumor managed to break my femur. It felt like a small screw head. After telling the Ortho Doc, he agreed but wanted an x-ray. Guess what there is no hardware at the site. Yes, after a biopsy it was determined that the breast cancer had returned once again. Last week I had full body PET scan. The results showed no other cancer – YEAH!!! Good news – it is the same cancer as found in 2 previous sites. I have an apt. with a surgeon Monday to get the tumor removed. My leg may resemble Dad’s – even the right leg. I feel strongly that this will be the last of the this breast cancer ordeal. Enough already! Other than this “bump”, we are enjoying a wonderful summer here in the NW. Loved the get-together in June, thanks to Dick and Judy.

Love, Nancy

Letter from the Creator & Editor:

I love doing this monthly Davis newsletter; however, lately it's turning into the Davis Iowa Newsletter. I need everyone to send me pictures and notes to include each month. I don't always have time to search everyone's Facebook's timelines for new info. If not, sadly the newsletter will be ending... xoxo
