CELEBRATING MAY DAY

Jim & Fran @ William Penn University

Jim & President of William Penn University

It was so great having Jim & Fran in Iowa over Mother's Day weekend. We were so thankful to be celebrating with them and Dick & Judy (surprising them) on Jim's celebratory commencement speech @ William Penn.

Jackson at Children's Museum Boston

From Jim:

Courtney walked at the Northeastern University commencement, although she has two on-line classes to finish for her Masters in Non-Profit Management, which she will do shortly. She and Andy are moving to Portsmouth, ME this week where Andy is opening a new office for Wayfair Furniture - supposedly a one year assignment and a promotion. Courtney will begin working for the Humane Society in Portsmouth this week.

Kevin received his MBA from HBS on Thurs and participated in the Harvard University commencement along with some almost 10,000 other graduates (only ~ 1000 from HBS) on Thurs AM. They will be traveling to SF next week to "apartment hunt" and start working full time for Robin Health the start-up prescription pharmaceutical company he is co-founding. Mandy resigned her work at the Kennedy School, Harvard University and will look for work as soon as they are in SF. Prior to commencement, Kevin and Mandy went "around the world" on a fast celebration trip. US to Italy, for several days of touring and sun, along with Mandy's parents and grandparents, then K and M went to Abu Dhabi for a few days, Singapore for a few days, Tokyo and Kyoto, Japan for a few days and back to Boston!

Veronica also has nearly completed her Masters in Education from ASU (she also has two on-line classes to complete (so far she has a 4.0!!!) which she will do in the next few weeks). She may walk in December at the ASU commencement Emerson and family cooperating or if not a year from now.

Fran and I are off to Minneapolis where we will help Fran's grandson, Ben, graduate from HS. He has enrolled in ISU for this fall and plans to major in engineering.

Celebrating Justin's Birthday

We celebrated Justin's birthday at Boulevard Park in Fairhaven. Despite the grey weather we still picnicked out by the water -- which is, what I'm learning, what Washingtonian's do -- the weather doesn't stop you here!

The rain never came. We enjoyed it all.

Including Jaynane's homemade potato salad and pecan pie (family recipes??)!

Such a fun day and so happy to live close to family to celebrate both big kid and little kid birthdays ;-)

Love, Jamie
