Happy New Year! The recovery is going well. The surgeon Quack said that they got it all--- clean margins and no cancer in the sentinel lymph nodes. Another quack, the oncologist, sent my two pound brisket off to another lab for more tests. I have full range of motion and it is still very sore to the touch but I can go with that as it has only been two weeks since they whacked me. I had absolutely wonderful help from Jaynane and Justin after the surgery. They made it easy for me. Love and Cheers, "One Knocker" Neal

Happy Holidays
