I'm thrilled to announce my new appointment as SVP of Marketing and Integration at The Little Gym, International part of Unleashed Brands. Thank you to everyone for the warm welcome -- I am so excited about this family of franchisees and brands who are making a difference in child development and opportunities for families to learn, play and grow!

And Bonus! Getting to work with rock star leader Nancy Bigley again along with teams of incredible people!

Jim and Fran attended the dedication of the new Acacia Fraternity chapter house at Iowa State University. The new 42 man house was completed in 2020, however, the dedication was delayed by Covid. The ribbon cutting on Saturday afternoon took place on the porch of the house on a sunny 55 degree day, with Jim doing the honors. The ribbon was held by the alumni board president on the right and the chapter member president on the left. Jim had the honor of cutting the ribbon as the chair of the campaign committee which raised over $4 million. The other pictures were taken at the banquet, which included honoring Jim with the National Fraternity's Patterson Award for the 2020 Acacian of the year for his role in the funding campaign and on the ISU Acacia alumni board for the fraternity. Additionally, Jim was inducted into the initial Acacia Chapter Hall of Fame by the active chapter. Finally he was the keynote speaker to the Luncheon attendees promoting the Iowa State Acacia Chapter Foundation for which he was a founding member and currently serves as president. Jim was humbled by all of this recognition.

Please keep Barry and family in your prayers as they say goodbye to his brother.

WOMEN WEDNESDAY

ABOUT ME

Hi! I'm Logan and my husband and I own Bus Guys LLC. It all started for us in 2018 when we purchased our first bus. We wanted to start making an additional income, as we both worked full time, just had our second baby, and had hopes of renovating/adding on to our home. We knew nothing about the transportation industry or owning a business, so we partnered with an established party bus company who was gracious enough to take a chance on us. That partnership turned into a mentorship, which led us to opening our own LLC one year later. Since then, we've added more buses to our fleet, added to our family making us a party of 5, built our dream home, and continued to operate a successful, award-winning business.

WELLBEING & FINANCE TIPS

I'm a firm believer in self-care. Your mind is such a powerful thing and will reflect your outlook on life. I've witnessed people close to me struggle because they aren't in the right state of mind. Do what you need to do to fill it with positive thoughts- whether it's listening to a podcast or scheduling your friends on your calendar for a coffee date.

Set goals, always be bettering yourself, and never stop learning..It's really hard for me to pick just one, because owning a business has taught me so much. All of these combined have made me a better person.

INSPIRING WOMEN

Women who are helping women are the reason I continue to push myself and set goals. I can't even begin to say how grateful I am to those who have made themselves available to me to ask questions, to give guidance, and to those who are the most relatable because we can talk about our struggles too. Especially when I look back at where I started and hope to be in the future. It's a strong driving force for me.

One of the things I make sure to provide her - tranquility. My position at work allows me a flexible schedule. Which means our mornings are slow and autonomous.

We have breakfast together. Read books with all of her "mandatory" smuggle items. And when it seems like she's had enough exploring and staring at the neighbor's pups, we slowly but surely start to pack up and head to the car for daycare.

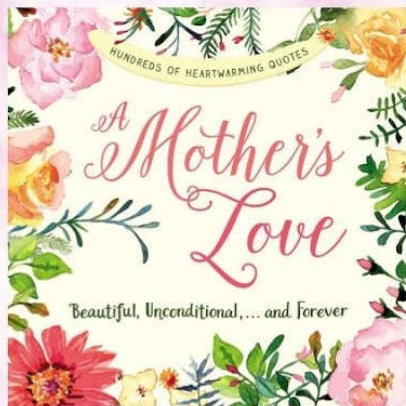

It's tempting to always want to do more, be more. Work my way up the corporate ladder, find a position that may align more with my interests but require more time away/less flexibility.

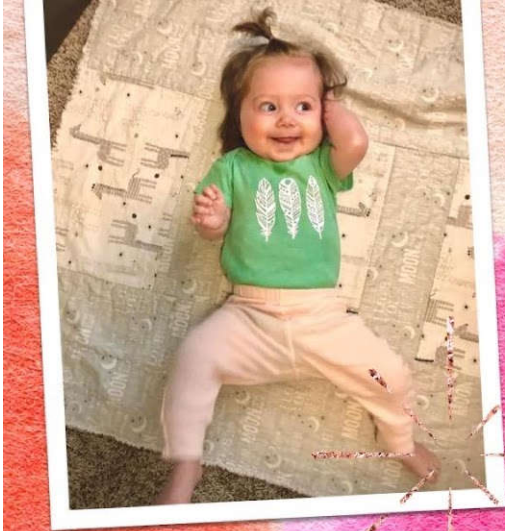

But, sometimes less truly is more. The seemingly mundane things in my day are actually things I'll look back on and miss.

Forever cherishing these first few years of her life, and being able to be a part of every simple moment. —Morgan
